

Rules and Instructions

Non-Technical Games

SOUND BITS:

- There will be in total of two participants in a team, not more nor less.
- The first participants will be given a headset and songs will be played.
- The second participants will have to dictate a word to the first participants with headset and above the song the first participants with the headset has to find the word by lip movement.
- There will be in total of 5 words to be found and the words has to be found within the allotted time
- There will be total of three prizes.
- There should be no offensive words or actions to be practiced on ground.
- The decision of the committee will be final on every aspect.
- The rules and regulations might change on spot with convenience of the committee.

THINK DIFFERENT:

- The host of the game will be asking questions or saying a sentence.
- The participants should not answer or say anything relevant to the sentence given by the host.
- The answers given should be given immediately, and cannot be taking time for thinking.
- Cannot use words repeatedly.
- Based on performance the prizes will be given.
- There will be total of three prizes.
- There should be no offensive words or actions to be practiced on ground.
- The decision of the committee will be final on every aspect.
- The rules and regulations might change on spot with convenience of the committee.

TIK TIK TIK (QUIZ):

- This is a single participant game
- Totally there will be ten questions.
- Each question will be allotted with a time of 20 seconds.
- The time will start after the dictation of the question and options by the host.
- Within the allotted time the answer has to be given, late answers won't be awarded any points.
- If needed there will be more rounds to finalize the winners.
- There will be total of three prizes.
- There should be no offensive words or actions to be practiced on ground.
- The decision of the committee will be final on every aspect.

- The rules and regulations might change on spot with convenience of the committee.

DEBATE:

- This will be a team game but the winners will be awarded individually.
- Each participant will be given one opportunity to express their views.
- The first participant will start with his views and then with that the other player will continue.
- The topic of the debate will be given on spot.
- There would be in total of three minutes to five minutes for a person to share his thoughts and points.
- There will be total of three prizes.
- There should be no offensive words or actions to be practiced on ground.
- Controversial words are strictly prohibited.
- The decision of the committee will be final on every aspect.
- The rules and regulations might change on spot with convenience of the committee.